The screenshot shows a login form for 'Music Online' with a purple and black background. The form has two tabs: 'Log in' (selected) and 'Sign up'. Below the tabs are two input fields. The 'Email' field contains 'example@example.com' and has a red error message 'This field cannot be blank' below it. The 'Password' field contains 'Password' and has a red error message 'This field cannot be blank' below it. A link 'forgot password?' is visible below the password field. A green 'Log in' button is at the bottom of the form.

Wrong input

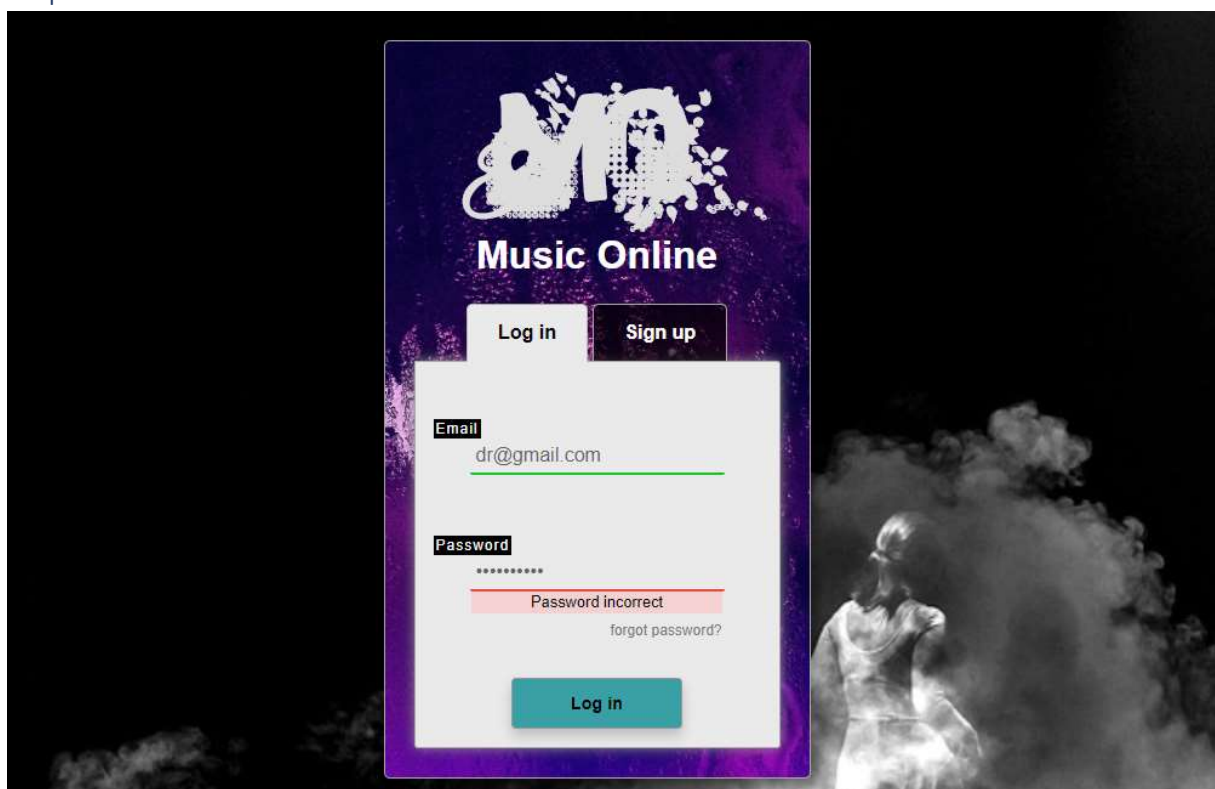

The screenshot shows the same login form for 'Music Online'. The 'Email' field now contains 'aaa' and has a red error message 'Not a valid email' below it. The 'Password' field now contains a single asterisk '*' and has a red error message 'Length (min 8 - max 50)' below it. The 'forgot password?' link and the green 'Log in' button remain visible.
